REPLICA OF FAMOUS LIBERTY BELL
ON VISIT HERE

The bell pictured above, a replica of the famous Liberty Bell in Independence Hall in Philadelphia, was brought to Bay St. Louis on Monday, June 5th and rang out the message of the Independence Drive for savings bonds for Hancock County. When the bell arrived it was greeted by special delegation members from the American Legion and the VFW and was escorted through town by this delegation in a manner befitting such occasion. Pictured above with the bell are Legionnaires, Clairborne Ladner, grand and Vincent LeGros, flagbearer.

E. E. Breland Re-elected President So. Miss. Wool Growers Association

A meeting of the South Mississippi Wool Growers Association was held Friday, June 2 at 10:00 o'clock in the Court House at Wiggins, Mississippi to sell the 1950 wool and elect new officers.

The wool sold for the following prices to Adams & Leland, Inc.: 60.20c per lb. for white grease wool which means wool sheared from a white sheep that is not infected with burrs; 50.25c per lb. for light white burry wool; 45.25c per lb. for black wool; 50.25c per lb. for lamb's wool; 45.25c per lb. for medium burry white wool; 40.25c per lb. for heavy burry black wool.

The wool will be delivered to Wiggins, Mississippi on July 20, 1950.

Sid R. Harris Elected To Head Mississippi Press Ass'n For Next Year

Sid R. Harris, Times-Post, Houston, was named president of the Mississippi Press Association in its final business session Sat. morning at the Hotel Biloxi. He succeeds Earle Johnston, Forest Scott County Times.

O. C. McDavid, Wilk-Amitie Record, Glister, was named vice-president. Tommy Alwine, Brandon News, and C. N. Harris, Madison County Herald, Canton, were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Other new officers are Louis P. Cashman Jr., Vicksburg Evening Post, vice president and chairman of the daily section; William Height, Winston County Herald, Louisville, vice-president and chairman of the weekly section; Henry E. Haderman, Jackson, vice-president and chairman of the commercial section; George W. Godwin, Perry Headlight, member of the board of governors.

HEADS WOMEN'S GROUP
Mrs. Velma Taylor, Mississippi Sun, Charleston, will head the women's section next year.

The press association urged its board of governors to look into the advisability of inviting the national editorial association to meet on the Mississippi Coast. They also commended the Mississippi Power and Light Company for their supply of wholesale electric current to REA, but censured Clyde T. Ellis, REA representative, for his attack on private utilities' part in the program.

A resolution submitted by Duke Thornton, Philadelphia, which would censure the Mississippi High School association for its action in banning Kosiuko High School from participation in inter-school activities, and which would restore Kosiuko to full membership in MHSAA, was referred to the floor.

Robert H. Haderman, Jackson, addressing the daily section, spoke of mounting costs of newspaper operation. He said, however, that circulation had reached an all time high and that newspapers last year had carried more than the advertising of combined radio networks and several times that of billboards.

"Washington," he remarked, "has become a propaganda bureau."

Mr. Haderman also told of newspaper shortages, which, he said, were coming into being again.

Oliver Emmerick, McComb, spoke on editorial control or leadership and de-

LIONS NAME TWO DISTRICT CHIEFS

Group Selects Biloxi for 1951 Convention Site

Biloxi, Miss.—Mississippi Lions named two district governors and selected Biloxi for their 1951 convention at the closing session of their annual meeting Tuesday.

J. D. Arrington, Collins mayor and publisher, addressed the final luncheon and declared that the people of the United States should try to relieve the principles which have made America a great nation.

Roy Black, 36 Nettleton merchant, was elected 30-A district governor. He defeated Fay Reid, 34, for the right to succeed the Rev. John A. McCay, Senatobia.

In district 30-C Ben Weiner, 40, Kosciusko, will succeed Dr. Tony Hall, Belzoni, as district governor. He defeated the Rev. Charles Liles, 43, Grenada.

Dr. D. M. Williams, McComb, and Dr. R. A. McLemore, Hattiesburg, were elected Monday without opposition as governors of 30-B and 30-D, respectively.

The Lions resolved to continue sending an all-state band to the international convention each year.

They also approved the appointing of a committee which would make arrangements for the band's trip and for a Mississippi booth at the convention.

They requested each Mississippi Lion Club raise three dollars per member per year to help defray expenses of the band's trip and the booth.

COAST ELECTRIC ADDS HOME ECONOMIST TO STAFF

The Coast Electric Power Association, local REA Cooperative, has employed Miss Lorette L. Webb, of Hattiesburg, Miss., to serve as Home Electrification Advisor.

Miss Webb, a native Mississippian, was born in Liberty, Mississippi and attended school at Mississippi Southern.

She received her BS Degree at George Peabody College Nashville, Tenn., and later an MA Degree at Columbia University—both degrees in Home Economics.

Miss Webb has taught in rural schools and worked with rural people through the Home Economics Department of Mississippi Southern. At that time one third of her time was given to supervision of vocational home economics in high schools of South Mississippi during World War II she served as Executive Secretary for Mississippi State Nutrition Committee under the War Food Administration, and until she joined Coast Electric's staff, she was and had served for four years as Field Nutritionist for Southeastern Area, American Red Cross, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

H. H. Shattuck, Manager of Coast Electric, in announcing this important addition to his staff, said that he considered the Association very fortunate in being able to secure the services of Miss Webb and that with the facilities planned in the new headquarters, she would be able to greatly contribute to the satisfactory and economical use of electrical appliances and equipment in the homes of Coast Electric members.

The facilities to be available are a completely electrified kitchen and laundry, together with display and demonstration areas.

"We do not intend to sell electric appliances," Shattuck stated; "instead, we will cooperate fully with the dealers and electric equipment dealers throughout the area Coast Electric serves. Miss Webb will work with the dealers with the Extension people, with the schools, in fact, everywhere that it is possible to make the use of electricity an economic dividend," Mr. Shattuck added.

Miss Webb, having much experience in working with rural people and their distinctly different problems, together with the recognition of being an expert in her chosen field of Home Economics, will add much to Coast Electric's ever growing staff.

A GOOD IDEA

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is the latest to go on record as favoring the abolishment of the "Gentlemen's Agreement" relative to the election of a state senator from the counties of Hancock, Pearl River and Lamar.

We, too, agree with the resolution adopted by the Poyune, Miss. Chamber of Commerce, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock Board of Supervisors and others, providing that "an opportunity be made available for a competent and capable candidate to run for the office of state senator from the three counties comprising this district, regardless of his place of residence, and affording his constituents an opportunity to continue him in office, providing his performance merits such continuance in office."

In this way a competent senator may succeed himself in office and earn for himself the seniority necessary for the influence a senator finds valuable.

Chairmanship appointments of important committees go to members with legislative experience, men who have been in the state legislature long enough to merit the respect of their colleagues in their judgment of various legislative matters, so in this way a state senator from this district may become well-known enough to receive these appointments necessary to the future welfare of our district.

It often has been the case that an unusually talented man from either of the above named counties wished to run for the office of state senator from this district but was prevented from doing so because of the said "Gentlemen's Agreement," but with this new arrangement such will not be the case.

We think this has been a wise move and we commend the Poyune Chamber of Commerce for being the first to bring this matter to the attention of the electorate.

ADVICE TO GRADUATES

In this season of commencement oratory, when the young people of the nation are being given tons and tons of advice, which most of them hear and promptly forget, we have been asked by a reader to add our words of wisdom. So, here goes:

We would, first of all, say to the young men and women about to begin life for themselves, that they should guard against making the mistake that sets the acquisition of money as the first objective of their human activity.

We would, next, urge them to seek an understanding of the expression that happiness is to be found within themselves, rather than in other people, or external forces.

In the third place, we would suggest that, in their youthful zeal and enthusiasm, they remember that the world is an old place, populated by an ancient race, and that human relationships and customs are not to be lightly challenged, or changed overnight, or thrown into the garbage can.

The fourth and last piece of advice we would offer, at least for this issue, would be to induce them to seriously set their own values upon all things and, once convinced of the real value of anything, that they live their lives on the basis of their honest appraisal.

This may seem like a small start to the average young person, who seeks to know all the answers, but it is, we think, enough for a start.

BLOOD BANKS

The National Security Resources Board has delegated to the American Red Cross the task of reorganizing its blood bank facilities, aiming at rapid expansion to provide protection in the event of a national disaster. This far-reaching civilian defense program will require about five years to complete with full stockpiling and distribution facilities.

Congressional Sidelights

—by—
CONGRESSMAN WM. M. COLMER

THE SUPREME COURT VERSUS THE CONGRESS

Early during the Roosevelt Administration, President Roosevelt called upon the Congress for legislation which would permit the enlargement of the U. S. Supreme Court, thereby giving additional appointments to that august body. The President's objective, of course, was recognized for what it was, namely, an opportunity to change the complexion and philosophy of the Supreme Court by the infusion of new and more liberal blood into that body. There was much propaganda put out by the then brain trusters of that Administration about the "Nine Old Men" who constituted the court. This was to the effect that Chief Justice Hughes and the other Justices were old fogies, too conservative, belonging to the horse and buggy days, et cetera.

Since the Supreme Court is, under our system of government, the final arbiter, with the last word on the construction of the Constitution of the Republic, there was a general uprising against the President's proposal. The Congress, which is usually, if not always, amenable to the will of the people after a prolonged and not fight, refused the President this opportunity to "reform" the U. S. Supreme Court. However, Providence gave the President the power which Congress had denied him. There were a number of resignations and deaths among the "Nine Old Men" which resulted in the appointment by both President Roosevelt and Truman of a majority of the court with so-called Liberals. And thus today the personnel of the U. S. Court is made up of men of the Liberal stripe, and the decisions of that court reflect the Progressive will of a Liberal Administration.

CHICKENS HOME TO ROOST

Therefore, the far-reaching decisions of the court on last Monday should come as no surprise. On that day, referred to by Congressman Gossett of Texas as "Black Monday", the court held that a Texas Negro was entitled to attend the University of Texas; that a University of Oklahoma Negro, who had already been admitted, but objected to segregation in the class rooms, dining rooms, and dormitories, must be treated like white students; and, in a third case, ruled that a Negro is not required to wait for a place set aside in one end of the railway dining car for him, and that the Negro is entitled to a seat in any part of the dining car that is available.

In a fourth case the court held that the Federal Government was entitled to the oils and minerals lying under the waters adjoining the states and that the states of Texas and Louisiana had no rights thereto—another blow at state sovereignty.

EFFECTS OF THE DECISIONS

Space will not permit a detailed analysis of the implications of these far-reaching and most important court decisions. On the racial questions, it should be pointed out that, while the court sidestepped the issue presented by the Solicitor General, Mr. Perlman, and the Negro litigants, that an end should be brought to all forms of segregation, the court would imply that that was the effect of its decisions. If any inference on this is to be drawn from the court's decisions, it is that it is just a question of time when the court will hold that segregation in any form must be abandoned by public institutions. It certainly means, for instance, that any Negro with scholastic qualifications who applies for admission to the University of Mississippi is entitled to such admission. It means that segregation laws in the various states, particularly in the South, are constantly subject to be invalidated by the U. S. Supreme Court. It means that there will be an ever increasing intermingling of Negroes and whites in public places. It is the forerunner of a final decision by that court, at a not too distant date, denying segregation in all public institutions, both State and Federal. On the other hand, the Texas and Oklahoma oil decisions can only mean the further concentration of power in the Federal Government at the expense of the sovereignty of the states of the Union.

But, more than that, it means that the will of the people, as expressed through its duly elected Representatives in the Congress, can and will be thwarted by a handful of men appointed by a President to the Supreme Court.

Trifles & Treasures

by
PEGGY FOOTE

If you think you can stand it, I will inflict one of my own compositions on you this week. It is called "Humility."

Teach me to be as flowers are:
So lovely and so calm.
Teach me to be as embers are:
So quiet and so warm.
Teach me to be as sturdy trees:
In all stability.
Yet as their leaves how in a fluttering breeze:
Teach me — humility.

You know when I was quite young I imagined that the only way to get along and go forward was to be forceful, intelligent and aggressive. When what a beating I took! I soon found my self without friends without activity and without invitations. That wasn't good for a young person. One day I purchased Dr. Frank Crane's book on philosophy, "Just Human." That's what I needed to be. I agreed with myself, and I not only read it from cover to cover but tried conscientiously to apply what I read. Gradually, I found myself being more polite and considerate and most important, more gracious. I naturally gained more poise through my new endeavor. I liked my new self a lot better—and so did every one else. Thank goodness, I caught it in time or it may have ruined my whole life. And now when I see someone "acting up" or sacrificing a lovely character on the altar of self-sufficiency I feel like saying "Don't, please don't." Try the other way and see what big dividends it pays—how much easier it is to be calm and poised.

I tried the method out on my very nice husband the other day and watched to see it work. For weeks I had been prodding him to do a little repair job around the house. (I must admit my "prodding" was interspersed with unnecessary remarks about his procrastination and a dozen other things.) This time I said quite cheerfully, "You know, darling, I would so appreciate you repairing my reading lamp. It would afford me hours of comfortable and interesting pastime." (I made it sound like an invitation instead of a command.) He jumped up briskly (or as briskly as 215 lbs. can) and readily set to work on it. In ten minutes I had a useful lamp which it had taken me ten weeks to manipulate using the wrong method. Call it strategy or whatever you will. Call it tact or "doing unto others," but it works and one is so much better liked for it.

Incidentally, "Just Human" is out of print but it can be procured I believe through advertising. I have a wonderful book seller in N. O. who does these things at no extra cost. Will gladly give you his name. The book is very helpful. I keep a copy on my permanent book shelf.

Here's a tip to you grandmas! When (or if) your hands become stained from weeding or stems, wash them with soap and water—yes—but try putting a little sugar in the water and your tiny white mitts will be like—just that.

Another tip: do you have a problem in getting your beautiful cake from your home to your favorite church bazaar? Well, gently press some toothpicks into the icing. Now place your cake on paper over the pinks and you won't smear the decorative effect.

At a gathering last week it was nice to see Mrs. Edward Heath and to meet her sister from the Pass. Caught a glimpse of Mary Cannon Bell busily chatting with someone as I went in. Mrs. Sam Whitfield looked so cool and fresh all in white. She was surely a bright spot on such a dingy day. Mrs. Leo Seal, Sr. was beautifully groomed and wearing grey with bunches of violets. How does Mrs. T. T. Robin manage to keep every strand of hair in place? I do envy her her braids. I've wanted braids all my life but have never seemed able to grow enough hair to manage them.

I can't think of any music that gives me the "lift" that Rossini's "Overtures" does. Something for your collection, if you don't already have it.

Vicki Hill (Mrs. J. William, Jr.) seems to come by her devotion to horses quite naturally. A visit to her home the other day revealed a photograph of a lady on horse back, riding side-saddle and in complete riding regalia suitable to that particular period. It was of Vicki's mother. Vicki laughingly remarked that if it were necessary to wear the sort of habit her mother wore she would never have taken up the sport seriously. The tiny lady in the saddle had on a voluminous divided skirt, a tightly fitted jacket with leg o'mutton sleeves and, perched atop her pumpadour—a pert black derby! I learned from my visit that horses have definite personalities just as people do. The Hills have four—"Lady High-tide," "Scarlett's Girl," "Stardust" and "Merry Girl." "Lady," my hostess explained, is the leader type and the station "Scarlett" is the "clinging vine type." "Stardust" is the "pushover" type, gentle, non-protesting, while "Merry Girl," the baby of the group, is quite determined, a little stubborn and spoiled. Maybe I'll try riding after all but it would have to be on the "push-over" type!

Just a suggestion: We went out for dinner the other night and our hostess served the prettiest dessert. It was simple but so refreshing. She had vanilla ice cream sitting in a bed of crushed pineapple which had been soaked in mint flavoring. On top the ice cream she had tiny little chocolate chips sprinkled. Really very nice.

I was always under the impression that Lane Bryant, of the famous mail order house, was a man. But I learn that she is a quite capable woman. She began by doing small sewing jobs at home and the time came when she was offered a juicy contract with a big manufacturer. When she attempted to sign the contract in her conclusion she signed L-A-N-E instead of L-E-N-A, which was her proper name. She is credited with designing the first maternity dress ever fashioned.

We will surely regret losing Mrs. Ellis Guillory when she moves else-

Celebrates 6th Birthday With Party Monday

Little Ripple Rausch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rausch, of North Second Street, celebrated her sixth birthday Monday afternoon at a party for twenty little friends of her own age.

The table was arranged with trailing rose of Montana and held a beautiful square birthday cake decorated with pink roses and pink candles. After refreshments were served at home, the children were taken to the new playground next to St. Stanislaus on the beach and Chuck Esau and Lollie Fuchel won the prizes for games.

Andollina, Anne and Clement Andollina, Eileen Clesi, Catherine Siconio and Laura Siconio.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wood, Jr. had guests for the week end, Mrs. R. DeHart and children and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wood, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McKay visited New Orleans.

Wesley Bourgeois and Norman Kelly visited their relatives the Alfred Bourgeois and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Collier of New Orleans were guests of A. B. Favre, Jr.

Sylvia Tamplin of Lake Shore spent a few days with Lynne Hall.

Larry Newman of Gulfport visited Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman, Jr., at the residence of the Brockmans.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Rathall have bought a pretty home on Sears Ave. They were in it on Sunday and had as their guests, Dr. Ralph Rathall and children and Mr. and Mrs. John Rathall.

The "Uhlle" home was sold to Mr. A. C. Bacon of New Orleans. Welcome to our town.

The Mollere station on Coleman Ave. is now "Bobs Service Station." Bob and Georgette Torgerson are in charge and have the best wishes of all their friends.

Mrs. Mollere has opened a large real estate office at 138 Coleman Ave. and as in the past is ready for business.

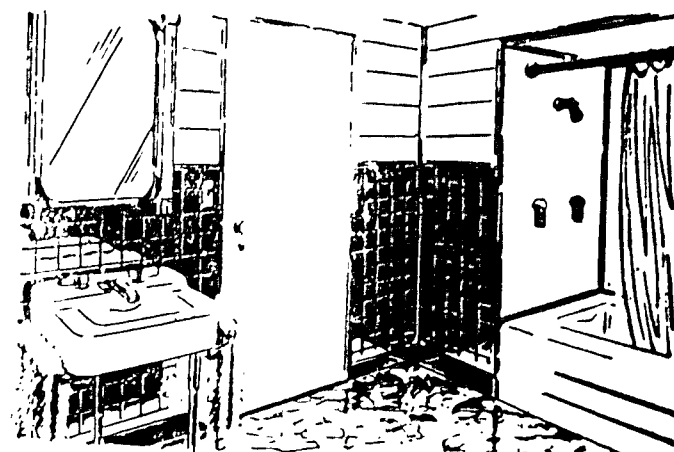

Charles Beau of Bay St. Louis now owns and operates the bus line from Waveland to Bay St. Louis. This was formerly operated by Brewster Mollere.

The Little Theatre of Bay St. Louis will have a good comedy "Three Men in a Horse." Two of our 'talents' will participate. Mrs. June Meyers will portray Audrey and Mrs. Joan Craft will have the role of Mabel, an ex-filly girl. The dates are June 22, 23 and 24. Spend an enjoyable evening.

Ott Brockman, Co. B, 302d Amp. Trac. Bn., participated in the battalion firing of the carbines at the Keesler Field firing range this past week end. Any one interested in joining this reserve unit may contact Ott Brockman at his home.

Jerlene Martello spent the past week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gipson.

Popular "hardtop" styling has now been made available in Chrysler's New Yorker and Windsor lines. The sleek body style, shown here in the New Yorker Newport, combines the safety and comfort of the sedan with the smartness of the convertible. Open-car effect is accentuated by side windows and wide door frames which project completely out of the roof. Maximum rearward vision is provided by the "hardtop" rear window which curves well into the permanent steel top.

the SPORTSMAN'S TENT

by STANLEY FILE

It is far better to stop and read up on the rules or listen to a bit of friendly advice before jumping into the middle of a game than it is to blunder out and learn by trial and error at some else's expense. It is easier more fun, and a great deal more profitable in any sport to know what you are doing and how to do it, than to go soft shelling, for instance, unless you know enough about it to protect yourself and at the same time conserve the small crabs for later catchings.

Only this week, a group of well-meaning and fun hunting people were observed splashing along the shores in search of crabs. Along with the usual light, spear and basket, they were armed with large seep nets with which they scooped up the crabs.

Granted that they did catch a few crabs, hard or soft, they also killed many crabs with their untutored methods. Such a group of five or six people all well equipped, splashing through the waters will realize few fruits of their labors; will have little fun (unless loud boisterous splashing be their objective) and do great harm during the comparatively short seasons of soft-shell crabbing.

Now, be reasonable folks, let's say

PROTECTION AT A SMALL COST

The little kindnesses which we give to animals are more than amply repaid by the affection, protection and service that they constantly render us. It is indeed fitting that we observe Be Kind To Animals Week, May 7-13. And remember, too, that just like a faithful watchdog, give you friendly service when you need it.

SEEKS NURSING SCHOOL

The Washington County Board of Supervisors took initial steps last week for the establishment of a Consolidated Nursing School at Greenville to train nurses in a 50-mile radius.

The Board will seek approval of both the University of Mississippi Nursing School and the State Board of Nursing Examiners to file application with the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care to locate the school at Greenville.

The proposed nursing school would provide instruction for a maximum of from 200 to 300 student nurses. Under the plan, the U. S. Government and the State of Mississippi would bear the cost of the school with the states paying 1/3 1/3 per cent of the cost.

Included in the program would be hospitals at Cleveland, Rosedale, Rolling Park, Leland and Belzoni and the hospitals at Greenville.

ORDNANCE PLANT AT FLORA PURCHASED

The Mississippi Ordnance Plant at Flora has been purchased for $150,000 by Joe L. Moore, president of the Joe L. Moore Company, of Alabama.

Making an outright purchase, Mr. Moore will acquire the 440 acres and accompanying buildings within thirty days, and he plans to offer them for sale as industrial sites.

The Moore Company has negotiated similar transactions with the Government's General Service Administration Liquidation Service for such former military installations.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED
Dr. Estes M. Blackburn of Jackson, was appointed by Governor Wright to the State Board of Health to represent the field of dentistry.

Re-appointed to that board were the following: Dr. P. G. Gamble, Greenville, representing the third district; and Dr. R. B. Caldwell of Baldwin, representing the first district.

Re-named for a four year term on the Banking Board are W. T. McKinney, Anguilla, representing the state at large, and J. M. Harrison of Winona, representing the first supreme court district.

DID YOU KNOW?

That a total of 413,000 persons viewed Mississippi travel exhibits at three travel and vacation shows sponsored by the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board in Chicago and Detroit during the past three months?

That Clarkdale's newest industry, the Coshoma Chemical Company, has already started production of insecticides and allied products for farm use, the plant producing approximately 4,000 tons of dust mixture and around 120,000 gallons of liquid emulsion for use by Mid-South farmers this year?

That Mississippi's banks have 44 times as much money on deposit at present as they had in 1900, according to the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta?

The main trouble with solving problems, as we see it, is that they are being tackled by too many people who know nothing about them.

Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre

Showing 'The Winslow Boy'

Sunday, June 18th,

One Day Only

The smash hit play of London and Broadway, 'The Winslow Boy,' which won the Drama Critics Award has now been brought to the screen at the Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre. The screen version of the famous Terence Rattigan drama which Eagle Lion Films is releasing tells the warm, human story of loyalty and sacrifice for a boy whose world crashes when he is accused of stealing money from one of his classmates.

DONAT STARS

Starting as the boy's lawyer who devotes his entire practice to proving the youngster's innocence is Academy Award winner Robert Donat, of 'The Ghost Goes West' and 'Goodbye Mr. Chips' fame. Appearing opposite Donat in her first film role as the boy's sister is Margaret Loughman who was seen here with the Old Vic company. Francis L. Sullivan, arch villain of the screen who scored so impressively in 'Great Expectations' and 'Joan of Arc,' is cast as the Attorney General. The boy's father is played by Cedric Hardwicke famous for many years on stage and screen, and the Winslow Boy himself is a new film find, Neil North.

BASED ON ACTUAL CASE

'The Winslow Boy,' which is based on a famous case, concerns itself with the loyalty and devotion shown by his family and a few friends when the boy is dismissed from school for allegedly stealing money. His father spurs no hardship to prove his son's innocence. His sister gives up the man she loves and the famous attorney, Sir Robert Morton played by Robert Donat, gives up a prominent practice to devote his entire time to the Winslow case.

'Johnny Eager' Showing

At The Star Theatre

Thurs. & Fri., June 22-23

'Johnny Eager,' one of the most gripping and exciting dramas ever to come out of Hollywood, will come to the Star Theatre Thursday and Friday, June 22-23, as an MGM masterpiece reprint. With Lana Turner and Robert Taylor as its romantic figures and with Van Heflin in the role of the attorney which won him an Academy Award, this picture carries a dramatic wallop which is hard to forget.

From the very first moment in which Taylor, ex-convict posing as a reformed taxi driver, meets Miss Turner, daughter of the prosecutor who had sent him to prison, the story holds a compelling fascination.

Robert Taylor seems to bring the sum of all his acting experience to the role of the gangster, giving it a penetrating depth of character shading. Not once does he miss a point, not once does he step out of the integrity of his portrait of Johnny Eager, making him a man at once revolting and sympathetic. He is undoubtedly the best role of his career.

Miss Turner, as the girl fascinated by the ruthless criminal, again reveals that combination of beauty, poise and sincerity which has brought her so rapidly to the top. Her portrayal stands by Taylor's as one of the striking acting contributions of the season.

Then there is the work of Van Heflin. Cast as a drunken henchman of Johnny Eager, cynical, sardonic, filled with philosophical reflections, he comes close to stealing the scenes from his co-stars and makes his character one you will remember long after the picture's fadeout.

There is not a flaw in the entire cast, which includes Edward Arnold as the father of Miss Turner, Robert Sterling as her fiancé, Patricia Dane as the girl cast off by Taylor, Glenda Farrell in a poignant part as a policeman's wife, Henry O'Neill, Diana Lewis and Barry Nelson. 'Johnny Eager' may be recommended as absorbing entertainment, filled with suspense, excitement and dramatic power.

CHRYSLER IS NOW

FEATURING THE NEW

'HARDTOP' STYLING

Newport styling that combines the sleek lines of the conventional convertible with the sedan comfort and safety of a permanent all-steel top has now been made available in the Chrysler New Yorker and Windsor lines.

Known as the "hardtop convertible," the Newport body was pioneered by Chrysler at the close of the war, but production was deferred at that time because of material shortages. It made its first appearance in the Chrysler line in the Town and Country Newport.

Public enthusiasm for the hardtop styling in the luxurious Chrysler Town and Country Newport has prompted the company to add Newport models to the New Yorker and Windsor lines, according to J. A. O'Malley, general sales manager of the Chrysler Division.

"CLEARBAC" WINDOWS: A distinctive feature of the Newport model is the "clearbac" rear window that curves well into the sides of the steel top, providing a maximum of rearward vision and accentuating the convertible-like lines of the car. Further enhancing the effect of an open car, all side windows and window frames can be lowered completely out of sight.

Interiors of the New Yorker and Windsor Newports are styled in keeping with the high fashion racy exterior lines. Standard upholstery comes in green, blue, or maroon broadcloth fabrics to harmonize with the sixteen body color selections available.

Even more luxurious interior trim may be obtained with the upholstery options of colorful Nylon Bedford cord materials.

Like all Chrysler cars, the New Yorker Newport and Windsor Newport contain as standard equipment a long list of items ordinarily regarded as "extras" where they are available at all. Undercoating at the factory is standard, as is the full-flow oil filter, chemically treated engine block, and Superfinished engine parts. Both models are equipped with Prestomatic Fluid Drive and Chrysler's famous waterproof ignition system.

For safety they have the Chrysler safety cushion dash panel, electric windshield wipers, safety rim wheels, two back-up lights, and front and rear turn signals. For comfort they have chair-height seats that permit a normal seating posture and maximum visibility for all passengers. For passenger ease and grace upon entering and leaving the
